Crew Rescued When Boat Strikes Rock

—In Early Hours

Only one of a 10-man crew was injured when the 84-foot Western Producer struck a rock and sank off Sidney in the early hours of Tuesday morning. The boat foundered north of Sidney Spit on the western tip of Dunwell Island and was split in two by the rocks.

Crewman Harvey Shepherd, 3153 East 46th Ave., Vancouver, was taken to Rest Haven hospital with a facial gash after the crew of the Western Producer was picked from life raft by John Egeland, 2254 Amelia Ave., Sidney. Plight of the men was noticed when flares they had fired were seen in Sidney.

The Western Producer is owned by Charles Clark of Vancouver and was piloted by John Anderson, also of Vancouver. It was being used by the biological station at Nanaimo for salmon research. Salvage operations commenced later in the day.

Players Are Second In Province

When Four Gain New Honors

Taking second place out of the 10 entries, Peninsula Players brought back numerous honors from the provincial drama festival in Penticton last week.

Adjudicator Mrs. E. Springford, of Montreal, echoed the earlier comments of the judge in the regional festival when she termed the play, "bit of fluff, but so beautifully done."

The players presented Ladder For Lucy and gained four honorable mentions for its members. Nell North was so commended for her direction of the play, while Margaret Dixon, as Lucy; Joan Henriksen, as Isabella and Joe Fenton, as Gideon, were all similarly honored.

The local players also presented an honor performance of their short play.

The North Saanich company went in strength. In addition to the award winners, there were Pat Montgomery, Alison Smith, Herb Drew, Eve Smart, Florence Smith and Marjorie Donovan.

The company spent three days in the mainland city. The days were too short for them as the community offered every possible entertainment for the visiting players' groups. The community rallied around the sponsors of the festival and numerous organizations offered banquets and entertainment programs.

Provincial success is no new experience for the local company. Within months of their charter a decade ago, the small group had forged its way to the top.

No plans for the fall season have yet been announced by the successful company.

Referendum Is Debated

Local Duty With Local Children?

Pros and cons of the forthcoming building referendum in Gulf Islands School District were debated on Monday evening in Hope Bay hall at Pender Island.

J. M. Campbell, chairman of the board and Ganges School Principal J. Evans took the affirmative, with J. H. Amies and W. L. Shirley speaking for the negative. Bishop M. E. Coleman was chairman. Between 30 and 35 persons attended.

Both Mr. Campbell and Mr. Evans stressed the need for a science room and auditorium-gymnasium at the Ganges school and for a teachers' lounge at Galiano. The teachers have been added to the referendum since its last presentation six months ago.

Mr. Amies contended that the proposed expenditure could be better employed in raising the standards at the elementary schools on various islands.

Mr. Shirley recommended the withdrawal of Pender Island from the consolidated school district. Difficulties faced by local students attending high school at Ganges, both financial and geographical, were cited as the justification for such a move.

ALL OR NOTHING

During the question and answer period Mr. Campbell was asked why all items sought were placed under one vote, instead of offering a referendum with separate sections for separate projects. The board felt that the "ratepayers could not judiciously decide for themselves which items were needed most," explained the chairman. They were therefore invited to oppose all or none, he added.

The proponents, in summary, urged that it is the duty of every ratepayer to vote in favor of the referendum to provide the improvements at Ganges and the teachers' lounge at Galiano.

Those speaking against the referendum suggested that the duty of local ratepayers lay with local children and that the improvements are not needed for Pender children as Pender children are largely unable to make use of them.

Injured In Highway Mishap

—At McTavish Road

Two persons were taken to Rest Haven Hospital on Sunday afternoon following a two-car collision at the corner of McTavish Road and the Patricia Bay Highway. Driver of one car, Phillip Foster, 8130 Patricia Bay Highway, was kept in hospital for one day suffering a slight concussion. Mrs. Hil-da Lawson, passenger in a car driven by her husband, Henry R. Lawson, 1886 McTavish, was treated for shock and cuts and later released.

Sidney R.C.M.P. said a late-model Vauxhall driven by Mr. Foster was travelling north on the highway when it was in collision with Mr. Lawson's 1963 Acadian. The Lawson car was crossing the highway from McTavish onto Lochside Drive.

A charge of failing to yield right of way is being laid against Mr. Lawson by the R.C.M.P. Both cars suffered extensive damage.

Books Commence Long Trip

Over 1,000 books collected over the past several months by members of the Sidney Rotary Club are seen here immediately before starting on a two-month trip to Mirpurkhas, Pakistan. Standing with the shipment are Rotary President Doug. Frizzell, on the left; Peter Drummond, chairman of the club's international committee; and Rotarian W. J. Wakefield, on the right. Collection and shipment of the half-ton of books is the local club's international project for 1963.

Water By Next June Is Target

With a target of June, 1964, Deep Cove Waterworks District is going into high gear in its final survey of the distribution area.

The district has appointed John Motherwell, P.Eng., as consultant. Mr. Motherwell is commencing engineering studies immediately. Investigations into water feasibility and other basic considerations have already been launched by the district's committees.

The district was formed in March. Since that time trustees have held three meetings. J. W. Gibbs was elected chairman and J. Burt Smith, secretary, at the first meeting.

"If the support of the community remains as strong as it has been in the past," Mr. Gibbs told The Review, "the water distribution system could be implemented by June of next year."

New Resort Grows Up With Customs Port At Bedwell

Bedwell Harbor, lying serenely between North and South Pender Islands, is a busy spot these days as the annual yachting season gathers headway. And many of the visiting sailors are impressed with the change which has been wrought at the harbor's commercial centre by busy hands during the past winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Lettner, proprietors of the long established Bedwell Harbor store, have expanded their retail facilities considerably since last season. Six modern and attractive cottages have been completed and will be ready for use as soon as furnishings are installed.

IN BIG DEMAND

The new cabins are complete in every detail and are insulated for winter use. Mr. Lettner expects that they will be much in demand during the summer vacation season and he is confident that they will attract permanent residents as well. Each has a magnificent view of the serene harbor and full picture windows accentuate this feature.

To provide an ample water supply for his growing resort, Mr. Lettner constructed a 75,000-gallon concrete tank high on the hillside. Water is pumped into the eastern from the spring below and is fed to the various buildings by gravity. A complete sewer system has been constructed discharging far out at sea.

A new dining room is now being prepared for its official opening. It is contained in one of the oldest buildings on the Gulf Islands. It was originally the home of Old-Timer Harrison and exact date of its erection is no longer known. The structure is attractively rustic and also permits of a beautiful view.

Nearly is another venerable building which will shortly be equipped with a juke box and visiting parties may enjoy themselves there at any time.

Mr. Lettner's next project is

DIRECTOR CHASES BURGLAR AS COMPANY PRESENTS PLAY

While the prize-winning Peninsula Players company presented their entry at the provincial drama festival in Penticton, the director, Nell North was acting out her own mystery play.

Burglar entering the rooms of the auto court at which the players were staying made off with several hundred dollars. His haul might have been greater had he not entered Mrs. North's room.

In the early hours of the morning she observed a figure climbing through the window. She sat up in bed and the prowler promptly left the room. Mrs. North followed him and watched him walking outside the building. When the prowler realized he was being watched he threw away a purse and fled across the adjacent golf links.

The players continued their rehearsals without a director during the morning while Mrs. North was elated with investigating police officers.

The Deep Cove director explained later that delay in the arrival of props for the festival was worrying her, otherwise she would have been asleep during the incident.

construction of a large swimming pool in front of the store. Date of its completion has not yet been set.

The resort features laundromat and other facilities for visitors and services of every department were in demand last week-end when this writer visited the island.

A constant stream of cruisers arrives and departs from Bedwell Harbor. Resident Customs Officer George Burdman, who is not unknown in Sidney, documented more than 7,000 vessels in 1962, arriving for that country. He enjoys his summers there but finds that he and his assistant have too many moments keeping up with the demands of the visiting yachtsmen.

Residents of the area last week-end were a little disturbed because no work has yet been done on the

"KING OF KINGS" SHOWN AT GEM

The greatest human drama that the world has ever known is told in the movie "King of Kings", showing for the remainder of this week at the Gem Theatre in Sidney.

The story of The Christ, "King of Kings" stars Jeffrey Hunter as Jesus; Siobhan McKenna as Mary, the mother of Jesus; Hurd Hatfield as Pontius Pilate; Carmen Sevilla as Mary Magdalene and Robert Ryan as John the Baptist. The Samuel Bronston production unfolds a story of the life and times of Christ, and says director Nicholas Ray, it is essentially a film for and about young people.

The director pointed out that Jesus was only 33 when he was crucified and most of his followers were in their early 20's and young John was still a teenager. The film is designed to give the young of Christ, and says director Nicholas, of the problems faced by Jesus nearly 2,000 years ago.

Due to the length of "King of Kings", there will be only one complete showing on Saturday evening, commencing at 7.45 p.m. A special matinee on Saturday will commence at 1.15 p.m.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the Gem will turn to a lighter vein with the British comedy "Invasion Quare".

Starring Bill Travers, Spike Milligan and Gregoire Aslan, the comedy revolves about the attempt of four officers to stage a private invasion of German-occupied France during World War Two.

Mrs. H. A. Winnette will open the affair. Visitors to the garden party may take the Esquimalt bus, No. 23, to the end of the line.

OAK TREE IS NOW 12 FEET HIGH AT KEATING

May meeting of the South Saanich Women's Institute took place in the Institute hall, Keating, on Tuesday, May 21, with nine members present.

In the absence of President Mrs. P. Spek, Vice-President Mrs. A. Hafer was in the chair.

A letter was read from the South Vancouver Island District agricultural convener, enquiring regarding the oak tree which was planted in the little park beside the Institute, at the time of King George VI's coronation. This is a big tree now and stands over 12 feet high. Members were all busy this spring and the spring outing was relegated to the fall.

Mrs. Ruby Young and Mrs. Peggy Doney attended the Colwood Institute tea held recently and reported a very pleasant interlude. In place of the usual quilt, which members make and raffle each year, it was decided to purchase a doll and make a wardrobe for it for a fall raffle.

Mrs. A. Doney and Mrs. Jessie Young served refreshments.

had been in England since last September. After spending some time in England and also visiting Belfast, Ireland, they left for home on May 8 aboard the Carinthia. Lorraine and Frederick returned with them. Lorraine Essery flew directly home from Montreal, arriving here on May 17, and has been a guest at the home of Councillor and Mrs. R. M. Lamont, Lamont Road, until her parents' return. Mr. and Mrs. Essery and Frederick travelled by plane to Toronto, where they spent several days and then on to Saskatoon and Canwood, Sask., where they visited with friends who took them for a visit in Prince Albert National Park. From there they flew to Vancouver, where they spent a few days before returning to their home on Saturday, June 1.

BRENTWOOD

An enjoyable coffee party was held at the Brentwood United Church hall last Saturday afternoon, and a home cooking stall did a good business. Rev. L. Hooper opened the affair and Mrs. Hooper welcomed the guests at the door. The tables looked very pretty centred with vases of rosebuds and baskets of blue iris brightened the hall. Nearly $60 was realized for the U.C.W. funds.

Miss Daphne Sluggett, of West Saanich Road, has returned from a holiday tour by bus through the U.S.A. and spending a couple of weeks in Redwood, Calif. She was accompanied by a friend, Miss K. Roberts of Victoria. Both young ladies have just graduated from the School of Nursing at St. Joseph's hospital.

Young birthday celebrants during the past week were Murray

Sluggett, of West Saanich Road, who had a party for his 11th birthday and Donna Bickford, of Verdier Ave., who celebrated her eighth birthday.

Rev. H. E. Marshall, of Stelly's Cross Road, is a patient at Rest Haven hospital after sustaining a serious back injury when he had a fall at his home. Another patient at Rest Haven hospital is Frank Reed, who quite recently returned from the Veterans' hospital where he had spent several weeks.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. R. J. Parsell, of Benvenuto Ave., over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Garry N. Miles and son, Paul, from North Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McAdam from Haney, B.C., and Fred Sutton and daughter, Melanie, from Cordova Bay.

Miss Neeta Townsend, West Saanich Road, has returned to her home after being a patient at Rest Haven hospital, where she underwent surgery.

ISLANDS SCHOOLS

FOR a number of years residents of the Gulf Islands lying within the Gulf Islands School District, but beyond the shores of Salt Spring Island, have been acutely concerned over the problems of attending high school.

That there are advantages in living in the sea-girt communities of the islands is unquestioned by islanders. That this style of living is a serious problem in connection with education is equally recognized.

Population of the islands is such as to prohibit the erection of separate high schools on the islands. The potential attendance would be such as to offer only the minimum of courses or opportunities. Furthermore, the cost of operating such miniature high schools would be out of reach.

The fact remains that a family on Saanich Peninsula can enjoy the facilities of a secondary school without charges beyond those borne by taxes. Not so the islander. The Pender Island student who concludes his elementary school grades must follow one of two courses to continue his studies. He must travel to Ganges to attend the district high school there, or he must undertake a correspondence course. The former is usually prohibitive. Apart from the fact that not every family is prepared to see the children boarded out, the cost factor is frequently beyond the reach of the family concerned. If the parents object to their children leaving home at this particular age, then they can only look to some means of regular communication by water each day. The cost is high and the likelihood of a small boat being unable to venture forth on winter nights is also constantly high.

It is a situation that might bear investigation by the islands members of the legislature Recreation Minister E. C. Westwood.

Pender Islanders have already on several occasions looked with favor on North Saanich. The communications between the islands and Swartz Bay could be readily established at a time to permit of daily commuting. The responsibility of finding a workable agreement between the two school districts would then be that of Mr. Westwood. Similarly, some arrangement should be made whereby the cost of travelling could be borne by the province.

If the idea is workable, then every effort should be made to operate it. Every student who fails to continue his studies while possessing the ability to do so is a reflection on the bureaucracy that fails to find a solution.

LONGEVITY

THIS year sees the president of the Deep Cove Property Owners' Association enter his eighth term at the helm. J. W. Gibbs was the third member of the association of the group to be elected president. That was seven years ago.

The association is neither fickle nor addicted to short official life among its officers. The previous incumbent, R. D. Murray, held the office for five years.

During his term of office Mr. Gibbs has devoted a substantial part of his free time to the affairs of the Deep Cove community. He has been associated with almost every development in the district, particularly in connection with the development of the Deep Cove Waterworks District.

Seven years in the chair is an impressive record. Seven years of substantial accomplishment is even more so.

DRAMA

A SMALL company with a small play. Representing a small community, Peninsula Players went to Penticton last week. Competing against groups from many communities, all vastly larger than Sidney, the company returned with a second place award.

It is a warm reflection on the community, but it is, above all considerations, a warm commendation of the enthusiasm and ability of the small drama group.

A NEW ATTRACTION

IN August Salt Spring Island will present its first tourist fiesta, Pirate Days. The affair is still in the formative stage and no clear picture can yet be drawn of the new venture.

The Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce has long been among the most active of rural chambers and it has rarely failed to produce. It has a list of accomplishments stretching back into its history and few failures can be traced to the chamber.

Islanders are already enthusiastically supporting the project.

The remaining islanders and the chambers of North Saanich and Central Saanich might well watch the preparations in anticipation of contributing in any possible manner. A tourist attraction on Salt Spring Island represents a tourist attraction to every part of the territory served by the provincial government's island services. The most dyed-in-the-wool tourist cannot stay on Salt Spring for ever.

Letters To The Editor

AN EXPERIENCE

The written word does not fully express the depth of one's feeling of gratitude and pride when one is privileged to be associated with a fine group of local trouperes such as the cast and technical crew who participated in the recent Provincial Drama Festival finals held recently in Penticton. It was a never-to-be-forgotten experience not only in the field of Little Theatre work, but also in the field of community effort. At Penticton every organization, with the Chamber of Commerce giving the lead, played a part in hosting the festival.

The Peninsula Players soon realized that there was before them more than the challenge of presenting a good performance. There was also the opportunity of letting the rest of the province know something of the features of Sidney and North Saanich—indeed of the whole Saanich Peninsula. This district is now known as the back door to Roger's Pass—and also now known to be deeply interested in all avenues of the arts. Having put this over it became imperative therefore, to work on improving "Ladder for Lucy" right up to the night of the competitive performance if we hoped to "place" on honor performance night. We placed! It was a great thrill!

The Players wish to acknowledge with warm appreciation the following local financial contributions towards travel expenses, etc.: The Saanich and Deep Cove Recreation Commissions, Col and Mrs. Cabell, Col. and Mrs. Paulin, Old Via Players.

The director, cast and technical crew of "Ladder for Lucy" were greatly encouraged by the support given by Dick Chudley, Peninsula Players president, and the membership as a whole. The behind the scene—all for one and one for all effort in getting the play to Penticton was truly heart-warming.

A very special thanks to the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands

KINDERGARTENS FORM ASSOCIATION IN NORTH SAANICH TO UNIFY STANDARDS

An association new to this area, the North Saanich Pre-School Supervisors' Association was formed Wednesday night at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. T. H. Boyd, Third St.

The five pre-school supervisors present at this meeting represent licensed kindergarten - nursery school groups north of Brentwood.

They are: Mrs. C. F. Swannell, who teaches morning session for five-year-olds at Peninsula Kindergarten, Holy Trinity church hall, Patricia Bay; Mrs. K. L. Thompson, who teaches morning session for five-year-olds at Brentwood Kindergarten, 7049 West Saanich Road, Brentwood; Mrs. T. H. Boyd, who teaches morning session for five-year-olds and afternoon session for four-year-olds at Robert's Bay Kindergarten, 10215 Third St., Sidney; Mrs. C. Whitehouse, who teaches morning session for four- and five-year-olds at Forest Edge Kindergarten, 9016 East Saanich Road, near the Elementary Farm and Mrs. K. C. Cantwell, who teaches morning session for three-, four- and five-year-olds at Christopher Robin Kindergarten, 2324 Weiler Ave., Sidney.

Kindergarten - nursery school groups in B.C. must pass a series of inspections and must maintain a high standard to obtain and retain a licence.

Before the licence is issued, the premises are inspected thoroughly by the fire department, health department, and the building inspector.

The district social worker observes a full day's activities and constant checks are maintained by both the health and welfare departments every year the kindergarten is in operation.

The supervisors, themselves, must also have approved training. Those who hold B.C. teaching certificates are expected to take a special kindergarten demonstration course or a specific kindergarten course in the college of education.

Those with no teachers' training must pass a two-section correspondence course from the U.B.C. extension department and attend the demonstration course.

All pre-school supervisors are encouraged to do a great deal of outside reading, and to avail themselves of various night or summer school courses in kindergarten work.

All members of the North Saanich Pre-School Supervisors' Association are fully qualified and licensed, and prior to becoming kindergarten teachers all have worked with children in such fields as teaching, art, music, primary grades, retarded and handicapped children, Girl Guides, or school organizations. All have children of their own.

The organization was formed to discuss common problems and goals, and to unify to some extent the pre-school education in this area. With this in mind they plan a joint meeting in the near future with all the grade 1 teachers in North Saanich.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. K. Cantwell, Weiler Ave.

ART IS NOW A CULT

Only The Philistine Is Free

By FRANK RICHARDS

Not even art can escape the influence of progress.

Locally and internationally art has become a cult. The ordinary average man is no longer content to recognize worth in a work of art, because he is influenced purely by his experience and what he likes and dislikes and these factors have nothing to do with the case.

This was evidenced by the art exhibition of Saanich Peninsula Art Centre over the week-end.

Interspersed among the comprehensible paintings on display were the inevitable offerings of unreality, intended to convey an impression of something beyond their scope. To 98 per cent of visitors, they conveyed nothing. To the initiates, they were out of this world, which is, perhaps, the most suitable place for them. Only those who have thoroughly imbibed the tenets of the cult could comprehend them.

FRIGHTENING

Visit to an art gallery today is becoming slightly frightening. The trend of painting leaves the outsider with one of two views. Either the perpetrator of the work is beyond the limits of normalcy or the viewer, himself, is in that position. If the shortcoming lies with the artist, then this gradual departure from the norm is spreading at an alarming rate. If it is the viewer who lacks perception, then he is in need of treatment of one kind or another to bring him closer to the unacceptable normalcy he sees.

To the members of the cult, the Philistine on the street is an unfortunate fool who cannot or will not learn to recognize the qualities of incomprehensibility. To the Philistine, the appeal of unreality is an affliction, or an affectation, and he may rejoice in his comparative banality.

LEAVE IT TO THE CULT

For as long as there remain artists who will translate on to canvas the pictorial impression of what they see, I will contentedly visit an art exhibition. When all artists have joined the cult and nothing remains of traditional worth, then I will join the ranks of the professed Philistines and leave it entirely to the cult.

The current call for deviation from reality arouses many emotions, but mostly the same sensation as that gained by visiting a patient in hospital. Art is sick and we don't want to gain the same infection, but we feel a genuine sorrow and pity for the ailing patient.

In many instances we know that the patient will be back to normal within a matter of weeks.

Unfortunately, there is no indication that painting will ever recover.

APPRECIATION

WIDE INTEREST IN ART

SIDNEY SHOW DRAWS CROWDS

The hundreds of people from Sidney, Greater Victoria and the City who attended the Peninsula Art Group's Show in the Sancha hall on Saturday and Sunday, May 25 and 26, had a veritable feast of good things.

Those responsible for the excellent planning of the exhibits, and the collecting of so many works of art are to be commended. One realizes the immense amount of detailed work involved in gathering those interesting crafts, pottery, ceramics, carvings, dolls, inlaid wood, jewellery in silver and ceramics, carved mugs and jugs, batik and others.

The invitation art by Oak Bay Art Club, Victoria Sketch Club, the Crofton Art Club, and others, opened the eyes of many to the great interest shown in creative work done by amateurs. As one tion, Moorage will be provided as well as an adequate water supply, picnic tables, lavatories and other facilities. You can be assured that the park development will be completed this year," said the minister.

Commercial facilities at Bedwell Harbor have changed vastly during the past couple of years. And if Stan Lettner can get away from serving yachtsmen at his gasoline pump long enough, other developments will be completed in rapid order. A paddock for ponies has already been finished and trail riding parties will soon be a new entertainment feature there.

"God is reliable, through whom you were invited into the companionship of our Lord Jesus Christ, His Son."—I Cor. 1:9.

Have you ever seen two little boys standing glaring at each other and heard one say to the other, "Come on, if you're big enough make me do it." That's what they did.

Where did they get that from, Dad? Maybe from two bigger boys who acted the same way and yet had a different lot. The right to be obeyed comes not from being big but by the authority vested in the man.

In the above verse we see that an invitation is extended to each of us to come into the companionship of God's own Son and to this Son is granted the authority to be called Lord. Since God the Father, the Eternal One, has chosen to invest Lordship in His Son who is also eternal with the Father, (Jn. 1:1) who are we to stand and disregard the Lordship Jesus Christ.

How does man disregard the Lordship of Christ? Lordship is not acknowledged by the lips but by the actions of man. (cf Matt. 7:21). Then do we read His Word faithfully, "pray without ceasing", love one another even as He has loved us, bear one another's burdens, be faithful in attendance at His house as well as fulfill His many other injunctions? Do we call Him Lord - then let our actions begin to display it and the world will see it and be drawn to Him.

Christianity In Transition and Evolution

THERE is no design for endless Evil. By pushing Pagan brutalities into the background, the road ahead for sociologic improvements in this wonderful old World will be clear as daylight. Contentions and animosity will be reduced to manageable proportions.

All Providential designs will become lawful, as Faith, Hope and Benevolence are held in high esteem.

MRS. H. FRASER DIES AFTER

LONG ILLNESS

Resident of Ardmore since 1921, Mrs. H. (Muriel) Fraser passed away at Rest Haven hospital on June 3 after a long and painful illness. Mrs. Fraser was born at Woodford, Essex, England, and was the widow of the late J. A. W. Fraser, formerly of Jumping Pound, Alberta.

Mrs. Fraser is survived by daughters, Daphne and Diane Fraser, at home; stepdaughter, Mrs. A. R. Kerfoot, of Sidney; one brother, Austen de B. Winter, Calgary, and two sisters, Mrs. G. H. Ritson Bennett, of Edmonton, and Mrs. T. G. Campbell of Santa Cruz, Calif.

Funeral services were held at Holy Trinity church, Patricia Bay, on Wednesday, June 5, with Rev. Canon F. C. Vaughan-Birch officiating. The services were followed by cremation. Arrangements were handled by Sands Funeral Chapel of Roses, Sidney.

ael Morris, holder of the Koerner Foundation grant and at present at the Vancouver School of Art, added the professional touch.

The huge hall was literally crowded with pictures. It needed days to view them all and do them justice. The tea, always so welcome on such an occasion, was delicious, thanks to the ladies who were in charge.

I must not forget the very delightful art work done by the children of the local schools, which showed a joy in color and subject which only a few years ago used to be lacking. It was a good show and the work of the higher grades seen in the foyer were very worth while.

Altogether, it was an unqualified success, and I, for one will look forward to the next show with pleasure.—D.L.H.

I believe

In my fellow man, and in his desire to live, in his right to hope and believe that I will be,
A help in his hour of need,
That I will be at his side
Giving the Atricle I find from My veins, to speed his recovery
And then—may I go my way
Knowing that even though
He was a stranger—I had Helped him to live again
All this I believe—because I am a Blood Donor.

STUDENTS ARE ENTERTAINERS AT FESTIVAL

By TONY RICHARDS

Sidney P.T.A. presented its annual school festival to a large audience last Friday evening at Sidney elementary school.

The first half of the program was devoted to the entertainment by the pupils. The girls of grades 6 and 7 led with a Durram Reel, followed by the grade 2 class marching. Grade 4 did a Hungarian dance and grade 5 presented a play, Cock Robin. Grade 1 did a dance called the Haymakers; grade 1b, choral reading and grade 3, a Minuet.

Special feature of the evening was the prizewinning troupe of Highland dancers operated by the Mallard School of Scottish Dancing. Before the games and stalls opened a speech was given by Mrs. K. O. Herrington, president of the P.T.A. Then Mrs. J. F. Rowton officially opened the festival.

Among the many features were a sock hop, cakewalk, and a bingo game. Door prizes were also included.

the gold flags that flutter in the sunlight in downtown Vancouver. No bars, bends, chevrons, crosses, mantlings, supporters or marks of cadence; only the red and black letters, V.I.F., to indicate the time is again due for another International Festival of the Arts.

This is the sixth of such festivals and, though the brew we are to be offered is not as heady as in previous years, it promises to be interesting and exciting.

For the first time since the inception of the annual festival all the productions have originated in the city. There are no big importations and each of the seven theatrical presentations has been staged, directed, designed and constructed here. True, there is a certain amount of visiting talent. No city in the world these days can provide work 12 months of the year for artists of international calibre, but the majority of the 266 people taking part in the festival live in the lower mainland area.

TYPICAL PLAYER

Typical is John Wright, a young theatre student at U.B.C. who visited the Gulf Islands and peninsula last year when he toured as the Prince in the Holiday Theatre production of Puss'n Boots, and also as Mark Antony in the scenes from the plays of William Shakespeare.

Mavor Moore, who is directing two of the productions predicts a brilliant future in Canadian theatre for Wright.

As a marked contrast to the laissez faire approach of earlier festivals this is a conservative affair aimed at Vancouverites and people in the locality generally. It has to be so.

Last year they lost money and the whole wingding nearly folded. It seems the wisest thing to do to voo locals and build up a following, so that when Canada's Centenary is celebrated in '67, they can really let loose with a festival that will set the world back on its ears.

SHAKESPEAREAN OPERA

A British theme was chosen for this year and, after the official opening ceremony on the Queen Elizabeth Plaza, first nighters will troop into this splendid theatre to see Verdi's opera Macbeth, based on Shakespeare's play. The bard comes out well this year as his Merry Wives of Windsor (the Nicolai opera) is also to be presented.

The CBC is to present a Music At Six series in the Playhouse and the remaining theatre productions are St. Joan, Floradora, Peter Pan, The Importance of Being Earnest and the best of Spring Thaw.

The productions are to be played in repertory and it is possible, even with only a short stay in town, to see most of what is being offered.

PENCILLINGS

By VIRGINIA SHIRLEY

About six months ago the rate-payers of Gulf Islands School District No. 64 voted on a referendum dealing with construction of a science room and gymnasium-auditorium at the Ganges school.

It lost.

It lost on Galiano, Mayne, Saturday, the Penders, and at Fulford.

At the time it was felt the two issues should have been voted on separately, as many who were opposed to the auditorium looked more kindly on the science room. Now this matter is again to be placed before the voters, later this month, in the same manner, but, an extra item, a teacherage for Galiano, has been thrown in.

This doesn't seem exactly cricket, in our opinion. Not that we are against a teacherage for Galiano,—but that they are all lumped together as one issue.

One of the unfortunate aspects of this whole matter is that a "No" vote seems to brand one as a benighted lunk-head, living in the sticks, who couldn't care less about education for the young.

IT IS NOT THUS

This is not so. It is because we are vitally interested in the education of our young people,—our young people on Pender and the other islands of our group, that we take exception to the arguments presented. They are applicable to Ganges, but they don't help us.

We all know that a student attending a large high school, with specialized teachers, more facilities, and more equipment, is likely to receive a better education than a student attending a small high school. But, what about the Gulf Islands student who cannot afford to attend the high school at Ganges, and must struggle with correspondence courses sans teacher, specialized or otherwise, sans facilities, sans equipment, and often quit, sans education?

The Consolidated School Act says, in the interpretation of the deputy minister of education, students must be transported from and to their homes each day. This is a geographical impossibility in Gulf Islands Consolidated School District No. 64. So what thoughts has the department of education concerning this knotty problem?

This is an age when higher education is of the utmost importance. The festival commenced on Wednesday night.

And so we say farewell to the unheralded flags fluttering in the evening breeze as we make our way into the vastness of the Queen Elizabeth theatre and take our seats. Overture and beginners please, and away we go into the sixth Vancouver Festival. But more next week.

and no young person in these islands should be deprived of the right of high school education. But, before all our young families on Pender move away, so their children can attend high school and live at home, we should not rest until we solve this problem.

One solution is to turn to North Saanich. With ferry schedules adjusted to favorable departure and arrival hours to Swartz Bay, students could quite easily attend high school at Sidney, and be at home every night. Some have expressed the fear that our school taxes would go up. At least we'd be getting something for our tax dollar. And if the referendum passes they will go up anyway.

From what we have learned from parents of up-coming high school students here on Pender, few, if any, plan sending their children to Ganges. Except for those very few who are financially able to send their youngsters to private schools, this means a gradual exodus of our young families. So what are we going to do about it? Vote for improved facilities at Ganges, while we are still left scratching our heads about our own youngsters' education?

Education is not free for inner islands students. Let's think on these things. . . . To end on a happier note, the United Church Women are planning now for their annual strawberry tea at The Glade, on June 19. This is always a lovely "do", thoroughly enjoyed, and who can resist those generous servings of strawberry shortcake?

BOY INJURED IN FALL FROM BICYCLE EN ROUTE HOME

Billy Logan, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Logan, of Pender Island, sustained multiple lacerations and bruises when he was thrown from his bicycle on to the blacktop on his way home from school last Thursday.

Billy, with three other boys, was cycling down the incline between Bowerman's and Hope Bay, at high speed, when one of the other lads unintentionally swerved in front of him, and Billy was thrown violently onto the paving, stunned by the impact. He sustained deep gashes to his head and face, lost two teeth, and crushed a thumb. Miss Alice Auchterlonie, R.N., was called from her home nearby, and Billy's mother was notified, who immediately made arrangements to take the boy to hospital at Ganges.

At last report Billy was resting.

RUMMAGE SALE YIELDS $200 AT PENDER HALL

Ladies' Auxiliary to the Port Washington Hall Committee held a very successful rummage sale in the hall on Wednesday, May 29, netting approximately $200 by the sale of everything from last year's hats to last century's white elephants. Mrs. Elmer Bowerman won the float candlesticks, made and donated by V. Mildmay, and Mrs. R. Reynolds won the donated electric blanket.

These rummage sales are becoming increasingly popular each year, giving everyone a chance to unload basement accumulations which often prove just what someone else can use to advantage. Those with adopted refugees abroad have a real field day among the piles and racks of clothing; and many a summer cabin is brightened up by the addition of dishes and knick-knacks picked up at the sale.

Mrs. Olive Auchterlonie was convener of the affair, and all the ladies waited on the many customers. Tea and cookies were served.

They Were Not Accepted At First

By AQUA VITA

Every month hundreds of householders here throw money down the drain.

A local hardware salesman estimates that only 10 per cent of the toilet fixtures in the district are watertight. The remaining 90 per cent, he avers, are constantly leaking and the householder foots an unnecessary water bill.

The bathroom and its fixtures have been the source of considerable trouble since their invention.

First indoor water closet was frowned upon by polite people. The fixture belonged at the foot of the garden where it had always been located, they averred. In the course of time it was generally adopted until it became standard practice to provide a house with indoor plumbing.

Both indoors and out, the water closet has been labelled with more polite euphemisms than any other feature of a home. In past years not only has it been termed by any one of a hundred or more names, but many perfectly acceptable words have passed into a sort of limbo of social rejection simply because of their former association with the water closet.

NO RESEMBLANCE

While society was hurriedly finding new terms for the unit, the plumber was busy modifying the design until the unit itself no more resembled its ancestor than does the current euphemism resemble the Victorian term "the necessary".

The early toilet tank was located high on the wall. The valve was a heavy, cast block that was moved by means of a cast lever with a chain and handle. The unit was heavy and noisy and the water fell several feet to the toilet basin. This tank was frequently ornamented with the Victorian enthusiasm for ginger-bread and almost invariably bore a faint blue pattern in the china of its exterior.

These early tanks were of china where they were to be installed indoors and of cast iron for outside use. Both were characterized by a highly efficient operation and the rare need for attention.

The passage of the years has seen the unit develop into the low, "close-coupled" tank unit of the modern home. Readily cleaned and sanitary, it is a great advance from its ancestor. It has one shortcoming. It rarely works properly.

There are innumerable types of valve on the market today for installation in the toilet tank. They are mostly so simple that not even a child can operate them. When the mechanism collapses into a heap of green crystals from progressive deterioration of the metal submerged in water, the householder's troubles start.

June Bride Guest At Sunday Party

Honoring Miss Elsy Price, whose wedding will take place on June 15, Mrs. I. E. Devine entertained at the tea hour recently at her home at Ganges. The lace-covered tea table, centred with pink and white blooms and pink candles in crystal holders, was presided over by Mrs. F. L. Jackson. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. L. G. Mouat, Mrs. E. H. Newman, Miss Maud Scott and Miss June Mitchell.

The guest of honor and her mother, Mrs. A. R. P. Price were presented with corsages of pink rosebuds and, on behalf of the 30 invited guests, Miss Price was presented with an electric toaster and an electric kettle.

For the next many months he will be replacing valves, floats, linkages and every other troublesome gadget until one day he knows that there is no leakage of water. By that time the crystallization process has advanced and the whole works crumbles away to commence the cycle all over again.

Many modern houses are equipped with two toilets. Seemingly by this method it is hoped that at least one will be completely serviceable most of the time.

GROSSI-EAMES VOWS HEARD AT ST. ELIZABETH'S CHURCH

St. Elizabeth's Roman Catholic church was the scene of a pretty wedding on May 11, when Fr. William Mudge united in marriage Sadie Catherine Eames and Arthur L. Grossi. Bride is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Eames, 203 Raynor Ave. and the groom is the son of Mrs. E. Grossi, 9260 East Saanich Road, Sidney.

Coming down the aisle on the arm of her brother, Howard, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white organza. The fitted bodice with a scooped neckline and lily-point sleeves was trimmed with Swiss lace applique. This was repeated on front of the controlled bell skirt which was gathered at the back, the fullness accented by large self bow. The skirt swept to a chapel train. Halo of pearls and sequins held her waist-length heirloom veil of Brussels lace. Her heirloom pendant was gold set with pearls. Bouquet was composed of pink roses and lily-of-the-valley centred with an orchid.

Mrs. J. Ferrish, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and wore a floor-length strapless gown of blue lace and net with matching jacket of blue lace. Her whimsy veil was in matching tones.

Miss Catherine Eames, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a dress of pink taffeta with overskirt of net and chiffon. Her veil of pink net was held by a halo of pink roses. Attendants carried bouquets of pink carnations.

John Ferrish was best man. Howard E. Eames ushered the guests.

William Alexander proposed the toast at a reception in the Legion hall, Sidney. Pink tulips, blue iris and white gypsophylla decorated the bride's table which was centred by a three-tier cake.

A light green rayon sheath with matching coat was chosen by the bride for travelling to the mainland. Her accessories were green and her hat pink. She wore an opal pendant, gift of the groom. The couple will make their home at 9260 East Saanich Road, Sidney.

Mainland guests who attended the wedding were: Mrs. Sadie MacDonald, North Burnaby; Miss Sandra Wells, Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rice, Kelowna.

CAROL EAGLES MARRIED AT CEREMONY IN CHURCH HERE

Canon F. C. Vaughan-Birch officiated at a ceremony in St. Andrew's Anglican church, Sidney, on Saturday afternoon, that united in marriage Carol Alice Anne Eagles of Sidney and Norman Leslie LePoidevin of Victoria. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. Eagles, Sidney, and the late R. J. Eagles, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. LePoidevin, 848 Monterey Ave.

The church was decorated with spring flowers for the occasion and pews were marked with red roses set in pink doilies and trimmed with white bows. Organist for the wedding was Mrs. E. A. Richardson.

Soloist Miss Cathy Douma of Sidney sang The Wedding Prayer.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, R. Martin, from North Vancouver. Her floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace was styled on princess lines and sequins edged the scalloped neckline. Bows and streamers enhanced the back of the full skirt and the sleeves ended in lily points. A nylon tulle shoulder veil misted from a pearl coronet. Cascade bouquet was composed of white carnations and red roses.

Pink chiffon gown was worn by Miss Reta Smyth, the maid of honor. Headdress was of pink chiffon, net and flowers, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations accented with pink. Jewelry worn by the maid of honor was a silver bracelet, a gift of the bride.

A similar ensemble in aqua shade and white carnations highlighted in the same tone were chosen by the bridesmatron, Mrs. Robert Richardson.

Flower girl, Miss Lorna Johnson of Belmont Park, Victoria, wore a white nylon dress with pink satin sash and she carried a basket of pink carnations. Headdress was pink chiffon hair band with net and pearls across the top.

Best man was Bob Faith, of Victoria, and ushers were Dave Johnson, Victoria, and Ted Eagles of North Bend, B.C.

Reception in the Legion hall on Milk Road followed the ceremony and the hall was decorated with pink and white streamers. A three-tier heart-shaped wedding cake centred the head table, flanked by white candles and arranged in a setting of white tulle and roses.

The bride's mother received wearing a blue crepe wool dress with three-quarter-length sleeves, and a white and Tullisman rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother was in a pink and beige suit of linen with a flowered, watermelon-shade hat and black accessories.

Toast to the bride was proposed by R. W. MacDonald.

To leave on a honeymoon to Banff and the United States, the bride changed to a three-piece double knit suit in blue, with white accessories, a grey fur coat and white orchid corsage.

Guiders of the Sealake District met recently at the home of the district commissioner, Mrs. M. Destrube.

Guiders attending were Mrs. S. Bishop, captain of Elk Lake Guides; Mrs. Lundy, lieutenant; Mrs. W. Boshier, Elk Lake Brown Owl; Mrs. D. Ives, Keating Brown Owl; Mrs. K. K. John, Brown Owl and Mrs. C. Lewis, Tawny Owl, Cordova Bay.

The Brown Owls reported all packs are full but they are taking names of future Brownies for the waiting list. The Guide company which has just been re-opened in the past year will still accept members. Guides are girls between the ages of 11 and 15.

Mrs. Destrube led a discussion on the advisability of forming a district Local Association with representatives of each Parent Group and interested local residents who, although they might not have children active in Guiding, would be interested in the Guide movement.

The need for used Guide and Brownie uniforms was discussed and anyone having dresses, belts, ties or berets to sell is asked to contact the Brown Owls or captain in their area.

Brownies from Elk Lake and Cordova Bay will be attending camp at the Kingswood Campsite during July.

THEY EVEN WASH ROADS

WORK BEE AT FULFORD CLEANS UP

They even wash down the highway in their annual clean-up around the docks at Fulford.

Some 25 residents, and a visitor or two thrown in, turned up one night last week armed with scythes, shovels, hoe, rake, paint brush and plants. Everyone got busy—they snipped and cut, ran the lawnmower and generally tidied up the road-sides, and then gave the final face-lift by washing down the grime and dirt with the fire hoses. Fred Hollings and Bob Patterson handled the powerful water jets.

Visitors coming off the last ferry looked with astonishment at the unusual activity and drove carefully around the streams of water. Several times there was a rush to lift the hose as a car had to pass beneath it.

With no one person actually in charge, the gang worked like a well trained squad of guerrillas.

After it was all done, the wharf hill had never looked so shiny and clean.

The flower boxes were painted and re-planted and now await the touch of nature to burst into full beauty.

The Fulford people, just one or two ladies at first, started the clean-up bee. They, with the young Christopher Club worked hard each spring, and, though the Christopher have disbanded, some of the young people still come along to give a hand.

The flower boxes on Salt Spring Island originated at Fulford.

The flower box on the corner that took such a beating from parked cars, has been replaced, filled with good earth and plants. The Chamber of Commerce sent some lumber down for the box, and the usual flowery greeting will welcome visitors. The clean-up

MILL RATE TO COME DOWN ON ISLANDS HOSPITAL DISTRICT ANNOUNCES CROFTON

Annual general meetings of Lady Minto Hospital Society have been held throughout the Gulf Islands, with J. G. Reid, chairman of the board, presiding.

Douglas Cayave was elected to the board at Ganges for a three-year term. Mrs. C. Murrell, Mayne Island and Robert Hindmarch, Saanich Island, were also elected. Other members of the board are Mrs. G. A. Scott, Pender Island; Maurice Atkins, Mrs. Warren Hastings, G. S. Humphreys, J. G. Reid, Ed Richardson, Salt Spring Island; Mrs. E. I. Scoones, Galiano.

The annual reports, read by Mr. Reid, and Harold Hoffman, administrator, indicated a satisfactory year in the operation of the hospital.

The financial statement showed a small operating deficit of $54.45 which was absorbed by the non-operating surplus of $751.23.

Patient days totalled 3,876, with 35 births recorded.

A bequest of $12,850 from the estate of the late Hon. Randolph Bruce will probably be used for projects presently being considered by the board, which include an auxiliary lighting plant, a new X-ray machine and a sunroom, stated the chairman.

The woman's auxiliary were accorded a hearty vote of thanks for their valuable work and gifts during the year.

A meeting of the Gulf Islands Hospital Improvement District No. 9 followed the society meeting, at which A. E. Roddis, Fulford was re-elected as trustee for Zone Two of the hospital district for a three-year term.

Chairman D. G. Crofton announced that the mill rate for 1963 will be 0.72 as against 0.91 last year.

Books From Sidney On Two-Month Trip To Pakistan

Masood Ahmad Bhalli, a Rotary Foundation Fellow, addressed Rotary International last year, and as a result, about half a ton of educational books left Sidney last week bound for Pakistan.

The books were gathered by the Sidney Rotary Club during the visit of Peter Drummond, chair-past five months under the direction of the club's international committee. The Sidney club undertook the project after Mr. Bhalli told Rotary International that the greatest need of students in Pakistan was books—of any description. This student is now studying at the University of Arizona in Tucson.

After indicating that they would be willing to gather and ship books for Pakistan, the local club was put in touch with Dr. M. H. A. Drago, president of the Rotary Club of Mirpurkhas in West Pakistan. The books are being shipped to Dr. Drago and will be distributed by the Mirpurkhas club.

Most of the 1,000 plus books have come from schools in School District 63, courtesy of the school board, and they range from home economics through to mathematics and literature and language.

All the material was bundled into two large wooden containers last Thursday morning at Stegg Bros. The books will be placed aboard a freighter in Vancouver and will sail to Karachi via England and the Suez Canal. Upon arrival in Karachi, the books will be transferred to a railroad boxcar and the remainder of the trip to Mirpurkhas will be made by rail and truck. The entire journey is expected to take about two months.

ALL SET FOR AUGUST 9

Three-day Fiesta For Salt Spring Island Looms Close

Plans are well in hand for the three-day Pirate Days Fiesta to be held on Salt Spring Island the week-end of August 9.

A program of events will shortly be published, it was reported at a meeting of the fiesta committee, held last week. The event is being sponsored by the island Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the central committee, a management committee to control planning and financing of the project has been formed and includes C. R. Horel, D. G. Crofton, Lorne Earle, Eric Faure and S. E. Hughes.

May Queen Sharyn Reynolds has been asked to rule over the festivities. Mrs. Ellen Bennet is presently training a group of 20 young dancers, who will perform in pirate costume on several occasions prior to the actual fiesta, for purposes of publicity. Mr. Horel, chairman of the chamber, has requested chamber members to don pirate costumes for the chamber's annual installation dinner, June 5, and for the acceptance ceremony of the new "Queen of the Islands", scheduled for the end of June.

L. Benham, assistant director of Greater Victoria Metropolitan Board of Health and N. A. Lewis, district health inspector, attended the meeting, to advise on sanitary measures to be observed for outdoor sale of food.

FORESTERS HOLD STEADY WITH PEST TRIGGER

Harmful side effects of pesticides in insect and disease control have been much in the spotlight recently.

That foresters are keenly aware of these detrimental forces is emphasized by U.S. Forestry Service entomologist, R. L. Furniss.

Mrs. Boshier have grown English oaks in Canada. They brought acorns from Windsor Park back with them from a trip made in 1946 and these have now grown into tall, healthy trees, the highest rising some 40 feet in front of Mr. and Mrs. Boshier's home. Mr. Boshier is a retired horticulturist from the Experimental Farm at Saanichton.

It has been proved that there are no harmless substances, only harmless ways of using them, says Mr. Furniss.

The auto we drive, the fire that warms us, the aspirin that soothes our headache, the salt that flavors our food, the medicines that cure out ills. All are lethal if used incorrectly. Yet we use them and need them despite their potential hazard.

It is the same with pesticides. They are of great value; they are potentially dangerous; they must be used carefully.

That is why the forester is slow on pulling the trigger of the flit gun, for the economics of forestry dictate that nature must be depended upon to keep pests in check most of the time.

Fortunately she does—most of the time.

the Drama of DRUGS

By JIM BRIGHAM.

Primitive medicine, long considered inadequate by modern western standards, is being given rather more than a second glance these days by American medical and pharmaceutical researchers. Not so long ago, Rauwolfia—long used by Indians to treat disorders—became the first of the tranquilizer drugs, used with such effectiveness against high blood pressure and emotional disturbances. English wives' tales told of the efficacy of foxglove tea in treating weak hearts. Scientists developed from the foxglove the important medicine digitalis. On the basis of some rather embarrassing experiences like these, modern medicine men are no longer snorting in contempt at some of the strange remedies used by witch doctors and old wives.

We carry a great variety of all your hot weather needs for the beach or picnic outing. Your inspection is cordially invited. Don't forget our free delivery service when it's difficult to visit our busy little store.
